OVERVIEW

Through a five month long process and a total of 77 public hearings, the Assembly Budget Subcommittees crafted the Protect and Persist Budget – the Assembly version of the 2017-18 State Budget.

Under the preliminary summary numbers for the Assembly version for 2017-18 are $128.7 billion in available General Fund resources, $126 billion in General Fund spending, and $10.2 billion in total reserves – including: $1.7 billion in the regular reserve and $8.5 billion in the Rainy Day Fund. Total spending, including special funds and bond funds are approximately $181 billion.

Under the Assembly version of the budget, General Fund spending is nearly $300 million less than what was forecasted for 2017-18 when the Budget Act of 2016 was passed last June.

Summary:

The basis for the Protect and Persist Budget is clear:

- Protect the progress California has made in recent years and protect against potential future economic downturns or adverse actions from the federal government; and
- Persist and make even more progressive improvements to fight poverty and build a stronger middle class.

Key Protect elements of the Assembly version:

- Protects progress by:
 - Rejecting proposed cuts to Health and Human Services and to Veterans Services.
 - Maintaining affordable housing funding.
 - Preserving the Middle Class Scholarship – which, if cut, would have increased tuition costs for lower and middle income students by up to 40 percent at the CSU and UC.
- Protects against potential future economic downturns and potential adverse federal actions by:
 - Building total reserves to over $10.2 billion for 2017-18, which if the California economy continues to grow will reach over $18 billion by 2020-21.

- Restraining new spending by reducing total 2017-18 General Fund spending by nearly $300 million from the projected levels at the time the current budget was enacted.

Key Persist in making even more progressive improvement elements of the Assembly version:

- Expanding the California Earned Income Tax Credit to include the self-employed and incomes up to $22,300.
- Increasing Cal Grants and the Middle Class Scholarship to provide a dollar-for-dollar increase to fully cover the costs of UC and CSU tuition increases. As a result, lower and middle income students will not be hurt by the recent fee increases.
- Providing free tuition for the first year of Community College.
- Expanding enrollment at both the CSU and the UC to ensure more qualified California students get the education they have earned and deserve.

- Increasing total Prop 98 funding by $3.2 billion over the updated 2016-17 level.
- Improving CalWORKs services with increased county funding, adding home visitation, and establishing diaper assistance.
- Expanding access to health care by implementing Prop 56 as expected by voters, restoring dental and eyeglass benefits, and increasing Medi-Cal coverage up to age 26.
- Increasing Child Care and Preschool slots and expanding income eligibility requirements to ensure more working families have access to critical early care and education.
- Improving access to courts, including increased funding for dependency counsel and the equal access fund.
- Protecting tax payers with strong reforms for the faltering Board of Equalization.

Additional details of Protect and Persist Budget are included in each of the Subcommittee Reports.

Evolution of the crafting of the budget to this point:

The basics:

- Starting Point: The crafting of the next year's budget starts with the multi-year forecast contained in the most recent Budget Act.
- Final Governor's Proposal: The Governor proposes a budget and then updates the final proposal in the May Revision, which becomes the basis for which the Legislature works from.
- Legislative versions of the budget: Through an open, public, and transparent process spanning five months well over 100 hearings between the houses both the Assembly and Senate craft versions of the budget.

The following chart provides a side by side comparison of how the General Fund portion of the budget has changed from the forecasted amount in the Budget Act of 2016, the Governor's May Revision, and the Assembly's Protect and Persist Budget.

Key points to take from this side-by-side are as follows:

➤ Carry-in Balance.

- When the Budget Act of 2016 was enacted, it was projected that 2017-18 would start with a $2.7 billion balance.
- The Governor's May Revision lower's the carry-in balance to just $723 million. This is due in large part to the Medi-Cal calculation error that caused $1.5 billion in additional spending in 2016-17, and therefore lowered the carry in balance.
- The Assembly's Protect and Persist Budget returns the carry-in balance to $2.7 billion by using fund shifts to offset General Fund costs in the current year (including to spread out the impact of the Medi-Cal accounting error over a number of years).

➤ Revenues and Transfers.

- Despite a lot of concern and fears of dropping revenues, revenues for 2017-18 have been fairly consistent since the enactment of the Budget Act of 2016, the May Revision, and the Assembly's Protect and Persist Budget – all roughly just under $128 billion.

➤ Health and Human Services Funding.

- The Budget Act of 2016 projected Health and Human Services spending to be $36.3 billion in 2017-18.
- The Governor's May Revision includes $33.5 billion in spending for Health and Human Services. The $2.8 billion reduction is due to in large part to caseload reductions but also by the Governor's decision to use roughly $1billion in Prop 56 revenues to offset existing General Fund costs of Medi-Cal.
- The Assembly's Protect and Persist Budget includes $35 billion for Health and Human Services. This reflects 1) the restoration of $1 billion in General Fund spending for Medi-Cal so that Prop 56 can be used to expand access to health care; and 2) increasing Health and Human Services program investments by roughly $450 million.

➤ Reserves.

- Total Reserve levels are fairly consistent since the enactment of the Budget Act of 2016, the May Revision, and the Assembly's Protect and Persist Budget – all roughly $10.1 to $10.2 billion.
- The only difference over time is that since the enactment of the Budget Act of 2016, the constitutional requirement for the Rainy Day Fund has gone up by about $600 million, with the Regular Reserve going down by a similar amount.
- The consistency of the Total Reserve levels is a testament to the stability of California's finances.

Supplemental Reporting Language

- On or before November 1, 2017, the Legislative Analyst's Office (LAO) shall review California's higher education funding system and report to the relevant budget subcommittees and policy committees of the Legislature on options to implement a new funding formula that provides a stable year-to-year funding mechanism for public higher education institutions while providing additional monies to aid those categories of Local Control Funding Formula (LCFF) students currently targeted at the K-12 level—low-income, foster youth, and English language learners (ELL). Along with, student support programs and services, accountability metrics, and the achievement gap across all three segments. In developing options the LAO shall consider but not be limited to the following questions:

1. What are some of the funding sources that could be used for this proposal?
2. What are the categorical programs currently in place at the different segments and what are their respective funding sources?
3. What categorical programs would be included in the proposal?
4. What should the low-income threshold be for the low-income students included in the proposal?
5. What are some options to determining ELL eligibility for those students included in the proposal?
6. Due to the difficulty in determining ELL eligibility at the higher education level, should first-generation students be considered instead of ELL students?

The intent of this report is to determine how additional/supplemental state funding can be targeted to increase the retention and completion rates of underrepresented students (within the LCFF categories) and direct those funds among and within California's higher education segments. The LAO may convene or work with the existing advisory group of stakeholders to provide input in the development of the recommendations.
